

Worldly Wiseman

Lyrics & Music by Colin Crabtree, arr. Colin McCrow

E                      E/G#   E       G
Yes I met the worldly Wiseman, He spoke to me it seemed so right;
E              E/G#   E E/G#   E    G/D
The only thing I couldn't see, Was the start of an endless night,

Bridge

F#                  A                  F#                  A
He said, I must drop my load, It seemed to me a good idea;
F#                  A                  F#                  A
But when I had done it, The answer became quite clear.

Chorus

G              F#              G              F#
Worldly Wiseman, worldly Wiseman,
                    F                      G              F E      F E
You're the chief; you're the prince of liars of liars;
G              F#              G              F#
Worldly Wiseman, worldly Wiseman,
                    F                      G              F E      F E
You're the chief; you're the prince of liars of liars.

E                      E/G#    E              G
Lord please lift me to your council, Please take me Lord unto Your side;
E              E/G#    E    E/G#   E G/D
For the world is filled with ev- il, With no place in which I could hide,

To Bridge & Chorus

E                      E/G#    E              G
For such thoughts they lead to darkness, In a silent and empty land;
E              E/G#    E E/G#   E    G/D
And that is the fate of peo- ple, Who choose to build on shifting sand,

To Bridge & Chorus
