

Worldly Wiseman

Lyrics & Music by Colin Crabtree arr.Colin McCrow

Verse

$\text{♩} = 150$ E

Yes I met a Lord please lift me For such thoughts they

word - ly wise - man,
to Your coun - cil,
lead to dark - ness,

He spoke to me
Please take me Lord
In a si - lent

5

it seemed so right;
un - to Your side;
and emp - ty land,

The on - ly thing I
For the world is filled
And that is the fate

could - nt see,
with ev - il,
of peo - ple,

9

G/D

Bridge

F#

A

Was the start of an end - less night,
With no place in which I could hide,
Who choose to build on shift - ing sand,

Hesaid I must drop my load,
Hesaid I must drop my load,
Hesaid I must drop my load,

15

F# A F# A F#

It seemed to me a good idea,
It seemd to me a good idea,
It seemed to me a good idea,
But when I had done it,
But when I had done it,
But when I had done it,
the ans- -
the ans- -

21

A Chorus G F# G F# F

came quite clear, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise - man, you're the chief,
came quite clear, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise - man, you're the chief,
came quite clear, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise - man, you're the chief,

28

G F E F E G F# G F#

you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise -
you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise - you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars, World-ly wise - man, world-ly wise -

36

F G F E F E

man, you're the chief, you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars, man, you're the chief, you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars, man, you're the chief, you're the prince, of li - ars, of li - ars,